“THE ELECTRICITY ENACTMENT, 1913.”

RULES.

IN exercise of the powers vested in him by section 33 of “The Electricity Enactment, 1913,” the Chief Secretary to Government has made the following rules:

1. In these rules the following expressions have, unless the context otherwise requires, the respective meanings hereby assigned to them:

“The Enactment” means “The Electricity Enactment, 1913”;

“Aerial line” means an electric supply line which is placed above ground and in the open air;

“Authorized person” includes, with reference to the performance of duties incidental to the generation, transformation, distribution or use of energy,

- (a) the occupier of the premises whereon such duties are to be performed;
- (b) a person who has contracted with such occupier to perform the said duties from time to time as required on the said premises;
- (c) a person employed or selected by the said occupier or by such contractor as aforesaid or by the Chief Inspector or an Inspector to perform the said duties; provided that such occupier, contractor or person, as the case may be, possesses the qualifications (if any) prescribed for persons performing such duties;

“Bare” means not covered or protected with or by insulating material;

“Chargeman” means a person holding a certificate of competency as a Chargeman issued under these rules who is placed in charge of an apparatus by the management or an authorized person;

“Circuit” means an electrical circuit forming a system or a branch of a system;

“Converter” means a rotary machine for transforming energy;

“Dead” means at or about zero potential and disconnected from any live system;

“Distributing main” means the portion of any main with which a service line is or is intended to be immediately connected;

“Earthed” means connected to the general mass of earth in such manner as to ensure at all times an immediate discharge;

“Generating station” means the works or station where energy is primarily generated;

“Lightning guard” means apparatus of any description for the purpose of protecting a system from danger or damage from atmospheric electricity;

“Extra high pressure” means a pressure in a system normally exceeding 3,000 volts where the energy is used or supplied;

“High pressure” means a pressure in a system normally exceeding 650 volts but not exceeding 3,000 volts where the energy is used or supplied;

“Low pressure” means a pressure in a system normally not exceeding 250 volts where the energy is used;

“Medium pressure” means a pressure in a system normally exceeding 250 volts but not exceeding 650 volts where the energy is used;

“Owner” means the owner or lessee of an installation and includes, where the owner or lessee is absent, his authorized agent;

“Portable apparatus” means apparatus so constructed that it may be readily moved from place to place and be safely operated without structural alterations following on such removal;

“Private installation” means an installation operated or controlled by the licensee or owner thereof or by an authorized person for the supply and use of electrical energy solely to and on the licensee’s or owner’s own property or premises;

“Service line” means an electric supply line through which energy is, or is intended to be, supplied to a consumer either from a distributing main or immediately from a generating or distributing station;

“Standards of measurement” means the electrical standards that may be prescribed from time to time by rule under the Enactment;

“Storage” means the absorption of energy in batteries of accumulators for future use;

“Sub-station” means the works or station where energy is received for transformation, storage or distribution;

“Switch-board” means a collection of switches or fuses, conductors and other apparatus in connection therewith for the purpose of controlling the current or pressure in any system or part of a system, together with the framing and panels on which such apparatus is supported;

“Switch-board passage-way” means a passage, way or compartment large enough for a person to enter and intended for use in connection with a switch-board when live;

“Transformer” means a static transformer for transforming energy.

2. (i) The Senior Warden shall, subject to the directions of the Chief Secretary, supervise and be generally responsible for the due execution of the provisions of the Enactment and these rules, with power to arrange the posting of Inspectors, and shall before the first day of March in every year submit to the Chief Secretary a report on the working of the Enactment during the preceding year.

(ii) The Chief Inspector shall, subject to the directions of the Senior Warden, supervise the technical execution of the provisions of the Enactment and these rules, shall direct the Inspectors in their technical duties and issue technical instructions to them, shall when called upon so to do by the Senior Warden make personal inspections and report thereon to the Senior Warden and shall keep such records as may be required by the Enactment or these rules to be kept by the Chief Inspector.

(iii) Inspectors shall, subject to the directions of the Chief Inspector on technical matters, carry out the provisions of the Enactment and keep such records as may be required by these rules to be kept by Inspectors.

3. (i) Inspections of installations and apparatus shall be carried out within reasonable working hours; provided that in the event of an accident in connection with any installation or apparatus inspection is to be made as soon as is practicable after receipt of the report prescribed by section 24 of the Enactment.

(ii) All inspections and tests shall be carried out as the Chief Inspector may direct and in such manner as to cause as little inconvenience as possible to the management.

(iii) Inspections of new installations shall be made within a reasonable time not exceeding 21 days after receipt of the notice prescribed by section 12 of the Enactment, and reasonable notice of the time when the inspection will be made shall be given in writing to the management or authorized person and to the Electrical Engineer or Chargeman who is intended to have charge of the working of the installation, and such Electrical Engineer or Chargeman shall attend at the inspection and give such assistance as may be required by the Inspector.

(iv) Reasonable notice of the time when inspections will be made under section 13 of the Enactment shall be given in writing by the Inspectors to the management or authorized person and to the Electrical Engineer or Chargeman in charge of the installation to be inspected and such Electrical Engineer or Chargeman shall attend at the inspection and give such assistance as may be required by the Inspector.

(v) The management or authorized person shall make such preparations for inspections as may be required by written notice from an Inspector and shall, if required by an Inspector so to do, assist in the testing of the installation or apparatus, and shall switch off or switch on energy as may be required.

(vi) In cases where an installation or apparatus in respect of which a certificate of inspection has been issued is not working and the owner or licensee does not desire its further inspection notice thereof in writing shall be sent by the owner or licensee to an Inspector before the expiration of six months from the date of the last certificate of inspection issued in respect of such installation or apparatus, otherwise the inspection shall be made and the fee charged. Before bringing such installation or apparatus into use the owner or licensee shall send notice in writing to an Inspector and if six months shall have elapsed since the date of the last certificate of inspection issued in respect of such installation or apparatus an inspection shall be made within a reasonable period not exceeding 21 days after the receipt of the said notice and such installation or apparatus shall not be worked until a certificate of inspection under section 13 of the Enactment has been issued.

4. (i) All apparatus and conductors shall be sufficient in size and power to serve the purposes for which they are intended and shall be so constructed, installed, protected, worked and maintained as to prevent danger, so far as is reasonably practicable.

(ii) All conductors shall either be insulated or shall be so placed or safeguarded as to prevent danger, so far as is reasonably practicable.

(iii) Every switch, switch-fuse, circuit-breaker and isolating link shall be

- (a) so constructed, placed or protected as to prevent danger ;
- (b) so constructed and adjusted as accurately to make and maintain good contact ;
- (c) provided with an efficient handle, or other means of working, insulated from the system and so arranged that the hand cannot inadvertently touch live metal ;
- (d) so constructed or arranged that it cannot accidentally fall or move into contact when left out of contact.

(iv) Every switch intended to be used for breaking a circuit and every circuit-breaker shall be so constructed that it cannot, if reasonable care be used, be left in partial contact. This applies to each pole of double-pole or multipole switches or circuit-breakers. Every switch intended to be used for breaking a circuit and every circuit-breaker shall be so constructed that an arc cannot accidentally be maintained.

(v) Every fuse, and every automatic circuit-breaker used instead of a fuse, shall be so constructed and arranged as effectively to interrupt the electric current before it so exceeds the working rate as to involve danger. It shall be of such construction or be so guarded or placed as to prevent danger from over-heating or from arcing or from the scattering of hot metal or other substance when it comes into operation. Every fuse shall be either of such construction or so protected by a switch that the fusible portion may be readily renewed without danger.

(vi) Every electrical joint and connection shall be of proper construction as regards conductivity, insulation, mechanical strength and mechanical protection.

(vii) In connection with every system efficient means, suitably located, shall be provided for

- (a) cutting off all pressure from every part of the system ;
- (b) protecting from excess of current every part of the system.

(viii) Where one of the conductors of a system is earthed, no single-pole switch, other than a link for testing purposes or a switch for use in controlling a generator, shall be placed in such conductor or any branch thereof ; provided that a switch or automatic or other cut-out may be placed in the connection between the conductor and earth at the generating station but shall not be used except for testing and in emergencies only.

(ix) Where systems of wiring are used which employ one bare and one insulated conductor, no switch, fuse or circuit-breaker shall be placed in that conductor or in any conductor connected thereto and the said conductor shall be earthed; provided that switches, fuses or circuit-breakers may be used to break the connection with the generators or transformers supplying the energy if the connection of the bare conductor with earth is not thereby broken.

(x) Every motor, converter and transformer shall be protected by efficient means suitably placed and so connected that all pressure may thereby be disconnected from the motor, converter or transformer, as the case may be, and from all apparatus in connection therewith; provided that where one point of the system is earthed there shall be no obligation to provide means of disconnection on that side of the system which is earthed.

(xi) Every motor shall be controlled by an efficient switch or switches for starting and stopping, so placed as to be easily worked by the person in charge of the motor. In every place in which machinery is being driven by a motor there shall be means at hand for either switching off the motor or stopping the machinery.

(xii) Every flexible wire for portable apparatus or for alternating currents or for any pressure exceeding 150 volts direct current shall be connected to the system whereof such apparatus forms part either by efficient permanent joints or connections or by a properly constructed connector. In all cases where a person handling portable apparatus or pendant lamps with switches, for alternating current or for pressures exceeding 150 volts direct current, would be liable to get a shock through a conducting floor or conducting work or otherwise if any metallic part of the apparatus became charged all metallic parts thereof shall be earthed, and any metallic covering of conductors shall be earthed and other connection with earth shall also be provided for the metal of the apparatus. No lamp-holder shall be in metallic connection with the guard or any other metallic part of a portable lamp.

In any place where the pressure exceeds low pressure the portable apparatus and its flexible wire shall be controlled by efficient means suitably located and capable of cutting off the pressure, and all metallic parts shall be earthed independently of any flexible metallic cover of the conductors, and any such flexible covering shall itself be independently earthed.

(xiii) The general arrangement of switch-boards shall, so far as reasonably practicable, be such that

(a) all parts which may have to be adjusted or handled are readily accessible;

(b) the course of every conductor may be readily traced;

(c) conductors, not arranged for connection to the same system, are kept well apart and can be readily distinguished;

(d) all bare conductors are so placed or protected as to prevent danger from accidental short circuit.

(xiv) Every switch-board having bare conductors normally so exposed that they may be touched shall, if not located in an area set apart for the purposes thereof, where necessary be suitably fenced or otherwise enclosed. No person except an authorized person, or a person acting under the immediate supervision of an authorized person, shall have access to any part of an area so set apart.

(xv) All apparatus appertaining to a switch-board and requiring handling shall, so far as practicable, be so placed or arranged that the same may be operated from the working platform of the switch-board, and all measuring instruments and indicators connected therewith shall, so far as practicable, be so placed that the same may be observed from the working platform. If such apparatus be worked or observed from any other place, adequate precautions shall be taken to prevent danger.

(xvi) At the working platform of every switch-board and in every switch-board passage-way, if there be bare conductors exposed or arranged to be exposed when live so that they may be touched, there shall be a clear passage accessible from both ends and of such width and height as are hereinafter specified with a firm and even floor. Adequate means of access, free from danger, shall be provided to every switch-board passage-way :

- (a) Passages constructed for low pressure and medium pressure switch-boards shall have a clear height of not less than 7 feet and a clear width, measured from bare conductor, of not less than 3 feet ;
- (b) Passages constructed for high pressure and extra high pressure switch-boards, other than operating desks or panels working solely at low pressure, shall have a clear height of not less than 8 feet and a clear width, measured from bare conductor, of not less than 3 feet 6 inches ;
- (c) Bare conductors shall not be exposed on both sides of the switch-board passage-way unless either (i) the clear width of the passage is in the case of low pressure and medium pressure not less than 4 feet 6 inches and in the case of high pressure and extra high pressure not less than 8 feet, in each case measured between bare conductors, or (ii) the conductors on one side are so guarded that they cannot be accidentally touched.

(xvii) In every switch-board for high pressure or extra high pressure :

- (a) Every high pressure and extra high pressure conductor which is within the natural reach of a person standing on the working platform or in any switch-board passage-way shall be so placed or protected as adequately to prevent danger ;
- (b) The metallic cases of all instruments working at high pressure or extra high pressure shall be either earthed or completely insulated ;
- (c) All metal handles of high pressure and extra high pressure switches, and, where necessary to prevent danger, all metal gear for working the switches, shall be earthed ;

(d) When work is about to be or is being done on any switch-board, then, unless the switch-board be otherwise so arranged as to secure that the work may be carried out without danger, either (i) the switch-board shall be made dead, or (ii) if the switch-board be so arranged that the conductors thereof can be made dead in sections and so separated by permanent or removable divisions or screens from all adjoining sections of which the conductors are live that work on any section may be carried out without danger, that section on which work has to be done shall be made dead.

(xviii) All parts of generators, motors, transformers or other similar apparatus at high pressure or extra high pressure which are within the natural reach of a person from any position in which any person employed may require to be shall be, so far as practicable, so protected as to prevent danger.

(xix) Where energy of a high pressure or extra high pressure is transformed for use at low pressure, or energy is transformed up to above low pressure, suitable provision shall be made to guard against danger by reason of the lower pressure system becoming accidentally charged above its normal pressure by leakage from or contact with the higher pressure system.

(xx) Where necessary to prevent danger, adequate precautions shall be taken, either by earthing or by other suitable means, to prevent any metal other than the conductor from becoming electrically charged; and all such metal as an Inspector directs to be earthed shall be earthed in such manner as he may direct.

(xxi) Adequate precautions shall be taken to prevent any conductor or apparatus from being accidentally or inadvertently electrically charged when persons are working thereon.

(xxii) Where necessary to prevent danger, insulating stands or screens shall be provided and kept permanently in position and shall be maintained in sound condition.

(xxiii) Portable insulating stands, screens, boots, gloves or other suitable means shall be provided and used when necessary to prevent danger and shall be periodically examined by an Inspector.

(xxiv) Adequate working space and means of access, free from danger, shall be provided for all apparatus that has to be worked or attended to by any person.

(xxv) All those parts of premises in which apparatus is placed shall be adequately lighted.

(xxvi) All conductors and apparatus exposed to the weather, wet, corrosion, undue heating or with inflammable surroundings or in an explosive atmosphere or used in any process or for any purpose other than for the production of light or power shall be so constructed or protected, and such special precautions shall be taken, as may be necessary to prevent danger in view of such exposure or use.

(xxvii) Every sub-station shall be substantially constructed and shall be so arranged that no person other than an authorized person can obtain access thereto otherwise than by the proper entrance or can interfere from outside with the apparatus or conductors therein and shall be provided with efficient means of ventilation and be kept dry.

(xxviii) Every underground sub-station not otherwise easily and safely accessible shall be provided with adequate means of access by a door with a staircase or ladder securely fixed and so placed that no live part of any switch-board or any bare conductor shall be within reach of a person thereon; provided that the means of access to such sub-station shall be a door-way and staircase

- (a) if any person is regularly employed therein, otherwise than for inspection or cleaning; or
- (b) if the sub-station is not of ample dimensions and there is therein either moving machinery, other than ventilating fans, or extra high pressure.

5. (i) Aerial lines for low pressure and medium pressure continuous current and for low pressure alternating current shall be in conformity with the following requirements.

(ii) The interval between any two supports shall not exceed 200 feet, and where the line makes an angle at any such support the interval between that support and the supports on either side of it shall not exceed 150 feet; provided that in the case of built up and braced supports the interval between such supports shall be such as the Chief Inspector may approve.

(iii) Every support shall be such as the Chief Inspector may approve.

(iv) All aerial lines shall be attached to insulators and shall be so guarded that they cannot fall away from the support.

(v) No aerial line for the conveyance of energy at low pressure or with continuous current above medium pressure shall in any part thereof be at a less height from the ground than 18 feet, except with the written consent of the Chief Inspector, or be accessible to any person without the use of a ladder or other special appliance.

(vi) Where energy is transmitted by aerial lines on the three wire system, the positive and negative conductors shall be placed side by side above the intermediate conductor. The intermediate conductor shall consist of two wires placed side by side at a distance apart greater than that between the positive and negative conductors and connected in each span by two cross wires placed in such manner that in the event of either the positive or negative conductor breaking it shall fall on one at least of the cross wires.

(vii) Where energy is transmitted by aerial lines from a two wire system with the negative conductor earthed, the positive conductor shall be placed above the negative conductor in such a manner that in the event of its breaking it shall fall on the negative conductor.

(viii) Service lines from aerial lines shall be led as directly as possible to insulators firmly attached to some portion of the consumer's premises which is not accessible to any person without the use of a ladder or other special appliance. Every portion of a service line which is outside a building and is within 7 feet thereof shall be efficiently insulated.

(ix) Where an aerial line crosses a path, street, road, railway, navigable river or canal, the angle between the general direction of such path, street, road, railway, river or canal and of the aerial line at their place of crossing shall not be less than 60 degrees and the spans and general design shall be as may be ordered by the Chief Inspector.

(x) Where an aerial line crosses or is, in the opinion of the Chief Inspector, in proximity to any other conductor or metal, such precautions shall be taken by the management or owner as the Chief Inspector may direct with a view to the prevention of contact or danger.

(xi) Aerial lines shall be protected by efficient lightning arrestors and on each support a lightning guard shall be fitted.

(xii) Where the pressure exceeds 650 volts continuous or 250 volts alternating, the following requirements shall also be met ;

(a) Each support shall be clearly and permanently marked with a number ;

(b) Danger notices shall be fixed, as may be directed by an Inspector ;

(c) Provision shall be made to prevent climbing of the supports, as may be directed by an Inspector ;

(d) Where guys or stays are used, they shall be securely anchored and earthed ;

(e) A continuous earth wire shall, in cases where the Chief Inspector may so direct, be carried from support to support and be well connected to substantial earth plates at such intervals as the Chief Inspector may direct ;

(f) Wire cradles shall be supplied and fitted by the management, as may be directed by the Chief Inspector ;

(g) No extra high pressure conductor shall cross any building other than a sub-station, except with the written permission of an Inspector, or be accessible from any building, structure or tree without the use of a ladder or other special appliance ;

(h) Insulators used on high pressure and extra high pressure aerial lines shall be to the approval of the Chief Inspector ;

(i) No high pressure or extra high pressure conductor shall in any part thereof be at a less height from the ground than 22 feet, except with the written permission of the Chief Inspector.

(xiii) Where junctions are made between aerial lines and underground cables, reasonably efficient precautions shall be taken to obviate the effects of atmospheric electricity.

(xiv) All aerial lines which cross other aerial lines, telegraph lines or telephone lines shall be efficiently guarded by the management at all points where they so cross with regard to such aerial lines and with regard to such other aerial lines, telegraph lines or telephone lines.

(xv) Every aerial line, including its supports, all the structural parts, all electric appliances and all devices belonging to or connected with such aerial line, shall be duly and efficiently supervised and maintained by the management as regards both electrical and mechanical condition.

(xvi) The management shall remove any aerial line upon ceasing to use it for the transmission of energy, if required so to do by the Chief Inspector.

(xvii) The Senior Warden may, subject to the approval of the Chief Secretary, order special requirements to be met in the construction, equipment and maintenance of aerial lines.

6. (i) Underground mains shall be continuously insulated to the satisfaction of the Chief Inspector, and where they are attached to bridges or culverts shall be protected in such manner as may be directed by the Chief Inspector.

(ii) The breaking up of streets, paths, roadways or other public places for the purpose of laying underground mains and connections thereto and the re-filling and re-making thereof shall be conducted by the management in such manner as may be required by the authority in charge of such streets, paths, roadways or public places.

(iii) All manholes, street-boxes, junction-boxes and appurtenances of underground mains shall be constructed and fitted to the satisfaction of an Inspector.

(iv) All metal casings containing underground mains shall be efficiently earthed and shall be so jointed and connected across all manholes, street-boxes, junction-boxes and other openings as to make good electrical connection throughout their whole length.

(v) In all other matters concerning underground mains any requirements of the Chief Inspector based upon the Board of Trade Regulations for the time being in force in the United Kingdom shall be complied with.

7. (i) The wiring rules issued by the Institution of Electrical Engineers of the United Kingdom shall be followed, with such exceptions as the Chief Inspector may expressly allow, in all buildings, factories and workshops and similar circuits to which they are applicable.

(ii) Where and when ordered by an Inspector, a Wireman holding a certificate of competency as a Wireman issued under these rules shall be employed by the licensee or owner.

8. (i) No person shall lay or place any electric supply line or apparatus within 30 feet of any telegraph line or telephone line or telegraph cable or telephone cable except with the written permission of the Chief Inspector and in conformity with such written instructions as the Chief Inspector may give. The Chief Inspector shall, before giving any such permission or instructions, consult the Government telegraph and telephone authorities.

(ii) No electric supply line conveying energy at extra high pressure shall be laid or placed parallel to or nearly parallel to any Government telegraph or telephone line which is within 70 feet, by direct measurement, of such electric supply line; provided that in the case of any underground main the distance of 70 feet specified in this paragraph may be increased or reduced by written order of the Chief Inspector.

9. (i) Installations shall be maintained in good and efficient working order and their standard of safety shall be so maintained as to continuously obviate danger, so far as is reasonably practicable.

(ii) No person except an authorized person or a competent person acting under the immediate supervision of an authorized person shall undertake any work where technical knowledge or experience is required in order to avoid danger; and no person shall work alone in any case in which the Chief Inspector directs that he shall not. No person except an authorized person or a competent person acting under the immediate supervision of an authorized person shall undertake any repair, alteration, extension or cleaning of apparatus. Where work on or in connection with any apparatus is being or to be executed by a contractor for such work and the apparatus is under the control of the contractor, the contractor shall appoint the authorized person; where the apparatus is under the control of the occupier of the premises or the owner of the installation whereon the same is situate, such occupier or owner shall appoint the authorized person.

(iii) All persons engaged on work in connection with repair or maintenance of any installation shall be adequately protected from danger, and the responsibility for affording such protection shall rest with the management, if any, or in other cases with the authorized person.

10. (i) No apparatus shall be operated except under the control of Chargemen.

(ii) No installation shall be operated except under the control of management or an authorized person.

(iii) Storage batteries shall be operated in such manner as the Chief Inspector may direct.

(iv) Sub-stations and transformer stations shall be operated in such manner as the Chief Inspector may direct.

11. Standardized instruments shall be used for the measurement of energy, both with regard to pressure and quantity, and all units of electrical measurement shall be in accordance with those adopted from time to time by the Board of Trade of Great Britain, unless otherwise ordered by the Chief Secretary.

12. All measurements of dimensions and weights used or quoted in connection with the Enactment or these rules shall be expressed in British standard units.

13. So far as is reasonably practicable, the standards adopted by the Electrical Standards Committee of Great Britain for the design of apparatus shall be conformed to.

14. When in the opinion of the Chief Inspector it is necessary, in order to secure a reasonable degree of safety, to take precautions in the working or operation of, or to make additions or alterations to, any apparatus which are not prescribed by rule under the Enactment, the Chief Inspector shall issue orders in writing and such orders shall be carried into effect by the owner, management or authorized person to whom they may be addressed. Where, in such cases, the matters in question are provided for in the regulations issued by the Board of Trade of Great Britain, the orders of the Chief Inspector shall be in accordance with such regulations so far as local conditions may, in his opinion, permit.

15. No person shall, except with the express permission of an Inspector, remove or damage any safety appliance fitted in connection with or for use with any apparatus, provided that an authorized person may without such permission make renewals or repairs of or to such safety appliance.

16. Every installation for electric smelting or for any other electric metallurgical process shall be controlled and operated in accordance with such orders as may be given in writing by the Chief Inspector.

17. (i) Every owner, licensee or authorized person who shall alter or add to or (except in the case of portable apparatus) remove from one place to another any apparatus in respect whereof a certificate of inspection under section 12 or 13 of the Enactment shall have been issued within the six months last preceding such alteration, addition or removal shall forthwith give notice thereof in writing to an Inspector.

(ii) So soon as conveniently may be after receipt of the notice referred to in paragraph (i) an Inspector shall make or cause to be made an inspection and if the apparatus as altered, added to or removed satisfies the requirements of the Enactment and the rules thereunder he shall endorse on the certificate of inspection his assent to the alteration, addition or removal, as the case may be; if the apparatus as altered, added to or removed does not satisfy the requirements of the Enactment and the rules thereunder, the Inspector may by notice in writing posted at the place wherefrom the apparatus to which it relates is controlled or served upon the authorized person or management thereof require such further alterations, additions or removals of or to the said apparatus to be made as shall in the said notice be specified and may by the same notice or by a separate notice similarly posted or served prohibit the working or operation of the said apparatus or of any part thereof until the said further alterations, additions or removals shall have been completed. On the completion of any alterations, additions or removals required under this paragraph to be made an Inspector may endorse on the certificate of inspection his assent thereto.

(iii) No apparatus the working or operation whereof shall have been prohibited under paragraph (ii) shall be worked or operated until such assent as in that paragraph referred to shall have been endorsed on the certificate of inspection or the said prohibition shall have been withdrawn by writing under the hand of an Inspector.

18. When any part of a system is not in use, it shall be cut off from the source of energy and shall not be allowed to remain electrically charged.

19. The method of calculating the power of generators and motors shall be as the Chief Inspector may from time to time direct.

20. Instructions in the English, Malay, Chinese and Tamil languages and characters as to the proper mode of treating persons suffering from electric shock shall be affixed to all premises where energy is generated, transformed or used above low pressure and to such premises or classes of premises in which energy is generated, transformed or used at low pressure as the Chief Inspector may direct.

21. Telephonic communication shall be established and maintained in efficient order by the owner or licensee, if and where ordered by the Chief Inspector, for the proper control of installations.

22. Such fire extinguishing appliances as may be ordered by the Chief Inspector shall be provided by the owner or licensee of any installation and be kept ready for use.

23. (i) No licence shall be required under section 4 of the Enactment for using, working or operating or permitting to be used, worked or operated

- (a) any private installation which is contained entirely within land owned or lawfully occupied by the owner of the installation;
- (b) apparatus used exclusively for testing or research purposes;
- (c) portable apparatus operated solely for lighting or working public entertainments.

(ii) The Chief Secretary may by notification in the Gazette exempt any installation from the provisions of any or all of these rules.

24. (i) Every licence for an installation as a public installation shall contain conditions relating to

- (a) the method whereby energy is to be generated, transformed, transmitted and distributed and the type of apparatus to be employed and a prohibition of the use of any other method or type of apparatus without the express sanction of the Resident;
- (b) the voltage to be employed in generation, transmission and distribution, and the permissible variation thereof;
- (c) in the case of an alternating system, the periodicity and the permissible variation thereof;
- (d) a prohibition against the giving of undue preference to any person in respect of charges for the supply of energy.

(ii) Every licence for an installation as a private installation shall contain conditions relating to the matters specified under headings (a) and (b) of paragraph (i).

(iii) Licences for public installations shall be in such forms as the Resident may direct, and licences for private installations shall be in the form of schedule A hereto.

(iv) Fees payable on issue of licences for public installations shall be as follows :

(a) When the power of an installation does not exceed 150 kilo watts	$10
(b) When the power of an installation exceeds 150 kilo watts but does not exceed 300 kilo watts	15
(c) When the power of an installation exceeds 300 kilo watts but does not exceed 600 kilo watts	20
(d) When the power of an installation exceeds 600 kilo watts	30

(v) Fees payable on issue of licences for private installations shall be at the rate of one half of those prescribed in paragraph (iv).

25. (i) Certificates of inspection on completion of a new installation under section 12 of the Enactment shall be in the form of schedule B hereto.

(ii) Certificates of inspection of an installation or apparatus under section 13 of the Enactment shall be in the form of schedule C hereto.

(iii) Certificates of competency for Electrical Engineers, Charge-men and Wiremen shall be in the form of schedules D (i), D (ii) and D (iii) hereto, respectively.

26. (i) A second grade Electrical Engineer shall be at least 21 years of age and shall hold a certificate of service from a competent person to the satisfaction of the Chief Inspector, or shall be an Associate Member of the Institution of Electrical Engineers of Great Britain, or shall possess a certificate of competency as second grade Electrical Engineer issued to him in the Federated Malay States after he has satisfied a Board of Examiners that he has complied with the following conditions and possesses the following qualifications :

- (a) He must have served an apprenticeship in, or have worked for at least three years in, a workshop or factory where the making and repairing of apparatus has been carried out or have equivalent experience ;
- (b) He must be able to fully describe the principal types of apparatus in up-to-date use and must show knowledge of their construction, erection, testing, running, maintenance and repair ;
- (c) He must show knowledge of the principles governing the testing of apparatus while in operation and the operation of apparatus ;
- (d) He must write legibly and be able to make drawings of parts of apparatus and to make calculations required for efficient testing and working of apparatus.

(ii) A first grade Electrical Engineer shall be at least 25 years of age and shall hold a certificate of service from a competent person to the satisfaction of the Chief Inspector, or shall be an Associate Member of five years standing of the Institution of Electrical Engineers of Great Britain, or shall possess a certificate of competency as first grade Electrical Engineer issued to him in the Federated Malay States after he has satisfied a Board of Examiners that he has complied with the following conditions and possesses the following qualifications :

- (a) He must possess all the qualifications referred to in paragraph (i) of this rule and must produce written evidence that he has been in charge of apparatus for at least one year while in possession of such qualifications ;
- (b) He must be able to make working drawings of and prepare designs for the parts of apparatus and to make the calculations required in the design of apparatus ;
- (c) He must show knowledge of the winding and wiring of apparatus, of the principles to be adopted in securing safety, of the principles on which the tests of apparatus are conducted and of the principles on which apparatus is designed.

(iii) The examination for certificates of competency as second and first grade Electrical Engineers may be conducted partly by written answers to questions set and partly viva voce.

(iv) (a) A candidate for a certificate of competency as second grade Chargeman shall be at least 18 years of age and prove that he has served in attendance on apparatus for a period of not less than two years, or in cases where the certificate is to be restricted to the charge of a small apparatus used for a particular purpose only he must satisfy the examiners that he understands the working of such apparatus :

(b) He must understand the uses of the various parts of such apparatus as is in the opinion of the examiners likely to come under his charge and must show sufficient knowledge to enable him to operate it when running and if desired by the examiners he shall give practical demonstration of this knowledge.

(v) (a) A candidate for a certificate of competency as first grade Chargeman must possess a second grade Chargeman's certificate and prove that he has been in charge of apparatus for a period of not less than one year whilst holding a second grade Chargeman's certificate, or he must satisfy the examiners that his experience is such that they may reasonably dispense with the foregoing requirement ;

(b) He must satisfy the examiners that he is capable of taking charge of apparatus when in operation and give practical demonstration of this knowledge ; and if he holds a second grade Chargeman's certificate he must also satisfy the examiners that he has made satisfactory progress in his knowledge of apparatus since obtaining such certificate.

(vi) A candidate for a certificate of competency as Wireman must satisfy the examiners that he has practical knowledge and experience of wiring.

(vii) Every candidate for a certificate of competency shall produce satisfactory references as to character and, if required by the examiners, undergo a medical examination.

(viii) Any candidate for examination who fails for the third time to pass the examination for which he has presented himself shall not again present himself for examination, unless the examiners, taking into consideration the circumstances of any particular case, allow a further trial.

(ix) The Board of Examiners may in their discretion restrict the certificate of competency of any Electrical Engineer or Chargeman to the charge of any particular type of apparatus; but the holder of such a restricted certificate may after the lapse of twelve months from the date of such restricted certificate apply to be examined for an unrestricted certificate.

(x) For the purpose of holding the examinations referred to in these rules a Board of Examiners shall be nominated by the Chief Secretary, and the members shall hold office for so long as the Chief Secretary may direct.

(xi) Certificates of competency shall be signed by the Chairman of the Board of Examiners.

27. (i) Fees according to the following scale shall be charged for examinations under these rules:

(a) Examination for certificate of competency as second grade Electrical Engineer	$10
(b) Examination for certificate of competency as first grade Electrical Engineer	15
(c) Re-examination for removal of restriction on certificate of competency of second or first grade Electrical Engineer	5
(d) Examination for certificate of competency as second grade Chargeman restricted to the charge of a small apparatus used for a particular purpose only	2
(e) Examination for certificate of competency as second grade Chargeman	3
(f) Examination for certificate of competency as first grade Chargeman	5
(g) Re-examination for removal of restriction on certificate of competency of second or first grade Chargeman	1
(h) Examination for certificate of competency as Wireman	2

(ii) Examination fees shall be paid in advance, and if a candidate fails in his examination no part of the fee shall be returned to him.

(iii) All fees shall be paid into a Government Treasury and credited to the public revenue.

28. (i) The qualifications and certificates to be possessed by persons working or operating installations or apparatus shall be as follows:

- (a) in the case of a small restricted certificate of competency as a second grade Chargeman apparatus used for a particular purpose only

- (b) in the case of a portable apparatus operated solely for lighting or working public entertainments certificate of competency as a second grade Chargeman; provided that in the case of a person employed by the owner of the apparatus a certificate under the hand of an Inspector that such person is competent to operate it shall suffice
- (c) in the case of an installation the power whereof does not exceed 35 kilo watts certificate of competency as a second grade Chargeman
- (d) in the case of an installation the power whereof exceeds 35 kilo watts but does not exceed 70 kilo watts certificate of competency as a first grade Chargeman
- (e) in the case of an installation the power whereof exceeds 70 kilo watts but does not exceed 250 kilo watts qualification of a second grade Electrical Engineer under rule 26 or certificate of competency as a second grade Electrical Engineer
- (f) in the case of an installation the power whereof exceeds 250 kilo watts qualification of a first grade Electrical Engineer under rule 26 or certificate of competency as a first grade Electrical Engineer.

(ii) With regard to any installation the Chief Inspector may give directions as to the assistance to be provided to aid the Electrical Engineer or Chargeman in the charge thereof, and the licensee or owner shall comply with such directions.

29. When any installation or apparatus is operated by two or more shifts, the Electrical Engineers or Chargemen and their assistants going off shift shall not leave their stations until relieved by the Electrical Engineers or Chargemen and their assistants coming on shift.

30. The licensee or owner of every installation shall within ten days of the placing of any person in charge of an installation inform an Inspector in writing of the name and qualifications of such person.

31. The Resident may, after an enquiry by the Senior Warden under the Enactment and whenever on consideration of a judgment of any Court it appears to him expedient so to do, suspend for such period as he may think fit or revoke the certificate of competency of any Electrical Engineer, Chargeman or Wireman issued under these rules, and no person whose certificate of competency shall have been suspended or revoked shall during the period of such suspension or revocation take charge or be in charge of any installation or apparatus.

32. Every certificate of inspection and certificate of competency issued under these rules shall, so long as it remains in force, be produced whenever called for by a Court or by the Senior Warden, the Chief Inspector or an Inspector.

33. Fees shall be paid for inspection of installations and apparatus under sections 12 and 13 of the Enactment at the following rates :

(i) For private installations :

(a) When the output or energy received does not aggregate more than 1 kilo watt at a voltage exceeding 250 or does not aggregate more than 10 kilo watts at a voltage not exceeding 250

Inspection on completion ... $30

Six-monthly inspection ... 15

Provided that the fees for inspection of such private installations as are by these rules permitted to be used, worked or operated without licence shall be half those hereinbefore prescribed.

(ii) For public installations the fees shall be double these prescribed by paragraph (i) of this rule.

34. The Resident may by writing under his hand prohibit, either generally or in any specified locality, the use of any apparatus which is, in his opinion, causing or likely to cause nuisance to the public ; no person shall contravene any prohibition issued or published under this rule.

35. No apparatus shall in any State be operated or used under conditions which are in the opinion of the Health Officer of such State dangerous to the health of Electrical Engineers, Chargemen or other persons in attendance thereon or the public, and such precautions shall be taken as the Chief Inspector may direct to secure the due observance of this rule.

36. Any person who shall hire out or transfer permanently or temporarily any apparatus to any other person shall within one month after such hiring out or transfer give notice thereof in writing to an Inspector.

37. (i) A summons to an assessor under section 26 of the Enactment may be in the form of schedule E (i) hereto ; a summons to a witness under section 27 of the Enactment may be in the form of schedule E (ii) hereto.

(ii) Enquiries by the Senior Warden under the provisions of the Enactment may be held at any place that the Senior Warden may elect, and the evidence may be taken in any language.

38. Notices of inspection may be in the form of schedule F (i), F (ii) or F (iii) hereto, as the case may require, and may be served either personally upon the person to whom they are addressed or by being posted to him under registered cover or by being affixed conspicuously to the building wherefrom the installation to be inspected is controlled.

39. Records shall be kept as follows :

(i) By every licensee of a public installation :

- (a) Log of daily output of energy and of energy sold per month ;
- (b) Record of break-downs and of accidents, fatal and otherwise.

(ii) By the Senior Warden, a record of all enquiries held by him under the Enactment and of the evidence taken thereat ; for purposes of reference the enquiries shall be numbered in the order in which they are held in each year.

(iii) By the Chief Inspector

No. 1886.—

“THE TELEGRAPHS ENACTMENTS, 1905.”

In exercise of the powers vested in him by section 5 of “The Telegraphs Enactments, 1905,” of the several States, the Chief Secretary to Government hereby makes the following additional rules, with effect from the 1st July, 1914:

RADIOTELEGRAMS.

1. The rules relating to foreign telegrams are applicable to radiotelegrams subject to the exceptions contained in these rules.
2. Radiotelegrams may be accepted for transmission by wireless telegraphy to ships through such coast stations as the Director of Posts and Telegraphs may direct.

CHARGE.

3. The charge for a radiotelegram is three cents a word in addition to the amount paid to any Telegraph Company or Administration to which the radiotelegram may be handed for transmission beyond the Malayan telegraph system or, if the coast station is worked by the Government of the Straits Settlements or the Government of the Federated Malay States three cents a word in addition to the coast station and ship station charges. The charges may be ascertained on application at a postal telegraph office.

ADDRESS.

4. The address of a radiotelegram shall contain
 - (a) the name of the addressee;
 - (b) the name of the ship;
 - (c) the name of the coast station through which it is to be sent.

Example “Jones, Devanha, Sabang.” Where there is any risk of confusion between the name of the ship to which a radiotelegram is addressed and the name of a telegraph office the word “steamship” (or its equivalent in German or French) should be prefixed to the name of the ship.

5. The name of the ship in the address and the name of the coast station in the address are each counted and charged for as one word. The word “steamship,” if it appears in the address, will be charged for as one word.

NON-DELIVERY.

6. The sender of a radiotelegram to a ship may indicate the maximum period for which he desires the message to be kept at the coast station. If the radiotelegram cannot be transmitted to the ship within that period, a service advice will be sent to the office of origin for the information of the sender. If the sender does not specify any period, the office of origin will be informed on the morning of the eighth day after the despatch of the radiotelegram that the message has not been transmitted to the ship. The sender will be informed and may, if he chooses, request the coast station by paid service advice to retain the radiotelegram for a fresh period of nine days for transmission to the ship and so on. In the absence of such request the radiotelegram will be returned as undelivered at the end of the ninth day (the day of handing in not included).

7. If the coast station is sure that the ship has left its radius of action before the station could have transmitted the radiotelegram to it, such station will immediately inform the office of origin and the sender will be advised of the cancellation of the message. Nevertheless the sender may, by paid service advice, request the coast station to transmit the radiotelegram when the ship next passes.

SPECIAL RADIOTELEGRAMS.

8. The following special radiotelegrams only shall be allowed :

- (1) Reply paid radiotelegrams. These radiotelegrams shall bear before the address the indication "Reply paid" or "= R P =" completed by the mention of the amount paid in advance for the reply, for example "= R P Frs x =";

The reply paid voucher issued on board a ship gives the right to send, up to the limit of its value, a radiotelegram to any address whatever from the ship station which issued the voucher.

- (2) Collated radiotelegrams ;
 (3) Radiotelegrams for a ship to be forwarded by post from a port of call of the receiving ship ;

The address of such radiotelegram must be drawn up as follows :

- (a) Paid instruction "Poste" followed by the name of the port when the radiotelegram is to be posted ;
 (b) Full name and address of the addressee ;
 (c) Name of ship station which is to carry out the posting ;
 (d) Name of coast station.
- (4) Multiple radiotelegrams ;
 (5) Radiotelegrams with acknowledgment of receipt. But only with regard to the notification of the date and time at which the coast station has transmitted to the ship station the telegram addressed to the latter ;
 (6) Paid service advices. Except those asking for repetition or information.

REFUNDS.

9. The time occupied in radiotelegraphic transmission and also the time during which the radiotelegram remains at the coast station in the case of radiotelegrams addressed to ships, or in the ship station in the case of radiotelegrams originating in ships shall not be counted in the period of delay giving rise to refunds and reimbursements.

10. If a radiotelegram addressed to a ship fails to reach the addressee through any fault in the service the whole of the charges prepaid will be refunded to the sender on application.

11. If the coast station notifies the office of origin that it is unable to transmit a radiotelegram to a ship, the coast station and ship station charges will be refunded to the sender of the radiotelegram.

12. The amounts paid in respect of radiotelegrams or ordinary telegrams sent in consequence of the non-delivery, delay or incorrect transmission of a radiotelegram will in no case be refunded.

No. 1887.—

“THE TELEGRAPHS ENACTMENTS, 1905.”

IN virtue of the powers vested in him by “The Telegraphs Enactments, 1905,” the Chief Secretary to Government hereby makes the following additional rules, with effect from the 1st July, 1914:

1. Week-end telegrams for transmission to the United Kingdom or to Germany may be accepted subject to the following conditions:

2. TIME OF HANDING IN.—Week-end telegrams must be handed in in time to reach the office of the Eastern Extension, Australasia and China Telegraph Company Limited not later than Saturday night and will then be delivered on the following Tuesday morning.

3. CHARGES.—The charge per word is thirty-one cents to England and thirty-five cents to Germany subject to a minimum charge of 20 words in each case.

4. SUPPLEMENTARY INSTRUCTIONS.—Week-end telegrams must bear the supplementary instructions =TWT= which is counted and charged for as one word.

5. Week-end telegrams are subject to all the rules relating to deferred telegrams which do not conflict with the foregoing conditions.

No. 1888.—

“THE FOREST ENACTMENTS, 1907.”

AMENDMENT OF “THE FOREST RULES, 1909.”

IN exercise of the powers vested in them respectively by section 24 of “The Forest Enactment, 1907,” of the several States, the Residents of Perak, Selangor, Negri Sembilan and Pahang, each for the State whereof he is Resident, with the approval of the Chief Secretary to Government, hereby amend “The Forest Rules, 1909,” by inserting in rule 16, immediately after the words “for reasons of silviculture,” the following words: “or for any other reasons that the Resident may approve.”

No. 1889.—

“THE MINING ENACTMENT, 1911.”

THE Chief Secretary to Government appoints the 1st day of July, 1914, as the date upon which “The Mining Enactment, 1911,” shall come into force throughout the Federated Malay States.

No. 1905.—PROCLAMATION UNDER SECTION 4 OF "THE DISTRICTS WATER SUPPLY ENACTMENT, 1910."—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 4 of "The Districts Water Supply Enactment, 1910," I, E. Burnside, Acting Resident of Selangor, with the approval of the Chief Secretary to Government, hereby proclaim that on and after the 1st day of January, 1914, there shall be imposed upon land, houses, buildings and Sanitary Board areas, which are situated within the boundaries of the water supply area declared by Gazette Notification No. 2992 of 1911, and which are benefited by the public water supply provided within the said area, an annual assessment as follows:

DISTRICTS OF KLANG AND KUALA SELANGOR.

Where the supply is not regulated by meter—

On each Sanitary Board area an annual assessment of 2 per centum of the annual value (to be ascertained in the manner provided by "The Sanitary Boards Enactment, 1907") of all land and buildings situated within the Sanitary Board area;

On each house or building in any kampong or village not included in a Sanitary Board area when such house or building is situated within 660 feet (by direct measurement) of a stand-pipe connected with the public water supply, an annual assessment of 2 per centum of the annual value (to be ascertained in the manner provided by "The Sanitary Boards Enactment, 1907") of such house or building;

On all land not included in a Sanitary Board area and not being kampong or village land an assessment for the year ending 31st December, 1914, of $1.35 per acre.

Where the supply is regulated by meter—

On all Sanitary Board areas, houses, buildings and land whereto water is supplied by meter—

In the case of water supplied for stables, cattle-sheds, agriculture, horticulture, trade or manufacturing or business purposes, an annual assessment of 50 cents per 1,000 gallons;

In case of water supplied otherwise than for the said purposes, an annual assessment of 20 cents per 1,000 gallons;

Provided that in the case of any land whereto water is supplied both by meter and otherwise, assessment shall not be payable in respect of any water supplied by meter aggregating less than 25 gallons per acre per diem.

No. 1974.—SANITARY BOARD, KUALA LUMPUR.—Minutes of an ordinary meeting held at the Sanitary Board Offices, Kuala Lumpur, on Wednesday, the 20th May, 1914, at 9.30 a.m.

PRESENT: Mr. C. F. J. Green (Chairman), the Health Officer (Dr. A. R. Wellington), the Chief Police Officer (Mr. G. L. Jones-Parry), the Executive Engineer, Town (Mr. H. E. Steele), the Superintendent of Revenue Surveys (Mr. H. R. Shaw), Mr. A. K. E. Hampshire, Mr. H. P. Clodd, Mr. K. T. Parimanam Pillay, Towkay Choo Kia Peng, Towkay Khoo Keng Hooi, Inche Tamby Abdullah, and Haji Mohamed Taib.

ABSENT: The Government Architect (Mr. W. S. Huxley, acting), the Protector of Chinese (Mr. D. Beatty), the Collector of Land Revenue (Mr. H. W. Thomson), and Mr. A. P. Robinson.

1. Minutes of the previous meeting having been circulated among the members were taken as read, and were confirmed.

2. The Public Works Department progress report for the month of April was laid on the table.

3. Draft By-laws: Draft by-laws amending by-laws 51 and 52 were laid before the Board.

The amendments enable an owner and the Board to lay out lines of streets.

The Chairman pointed out that the amended by-laws were with a few alterations an exact transcript of sections 99 and 100 of the Straits Settlements Municipal Ordinance. The most important alteration was the insertion in by-law 52 (iii) of the words "and shall apply to the Resident to authorize the acquisition by private treaty or under provisions of Part VII of "The Land Enactment, 1911," of such portions of the said lands as are required for streets, back lanes or open spaces and subject thereto to make an order authorizing the scheme to be carried into execution."

The Chairman pointed out that this was not a satisfactory solution of the difficulty of awarding compensation, and that its effect would be to so greatly curtail the area and the time over which a scheme could be extended as to seriously hamper effective town planning. The Chairman stated that the Town Planning Committee had drawn up an Enactment dealing with this difficulty. It was hoped that this Enactment would become law, but that in the meantime as building was being delayed it was desirable to lay out at any rate the main roads leading from Kuala Lumpur. This could be done by the proposed by-laws if the above-mentioned words were omitted.

After some discussion Mr. Clodd suggested that the Board recommend the deletion of the above-mentioned words on the understanding that the question of compensation is dealt with as a matter of urgency and that there be no compulsory acquisition without due compensation. The Board agreed.

Mr. Shaw pointed out that the word "less" in the first line of the proposed by-law 51 (3) (d) should be "more." The Board agreed.

With reference to by-law 51 (4), Mr. Shaw pointed out that it was undesirable that the person whose plan for a new street has been approved should himself demarcate the new street. Difficulties as to boundaries and titles would arise if this were allowed. The survey office should be called in to demarcate the land in accordance with the approved plan. The Board agreed.

The Board considered that the following further amendments should be made: By-law 51 (3) (d), (f) and (g), omit the word "back" wherever it occurs in front of the word "lanes."

By-law 51 (3) for "14" read "20."

4. Vacant Land, Drury Lane: The Chairman read a letter received from Mr. R. M. Neill intimating the willingness of his clients to sell to Government four lots of vacant land situated at Drury Lane, held under titles 669, 670, 671 and 673, property of the estate of Leo Oun Neo. The Board decided to recommend their acquisition, provided the Government agree to the policy of building small markets for stall holders and that the site is suitable for a market and for buildings to house hawkers.

5. Water Charges for Trade Supplies: A memorandum drawn up by the Chairman with regard to water charges was submitted. The Board considered that in certain cases of trade supplies the gazetted charges of 50 cents per 1,000 gallons is excessive. It recommended that the notification be amended so as to give the Board discretion to fix the charges for various trades at rates varying from 30 cents to 50 cents.

6. Water Supplies, Special Rates for Charitable Institutions: For water supplied to charitable institutions, such as the convent, mosques, etc., the Board resolved to recommend that the supplies be given by meter and that a charge of 10 cents per 1,000 gallons be made for water consumed.

7. A report by the Health Officer on the system of bread making and the condition of bakeries in Kuala Lumpur was laid on the table. The report attributed the sourness of the bread in Kuala Lumpur and Malaya generally to readiness with which the alcoholic fermentation set up by yeast passed into lactic and butyric acid fermentation at a temperature over 86 degrees. It is this latter fermentation which sours the bread in Malaya, as the average temperature is 86 degrees and over. The sanitary conditions under which the bread itself is made in Kuala Lumpur are not unsatisfactory. The Board thanked the Health Officer for his report.

8. Refuse Destructor: Referring to item 17 of the minutes of the previous meeting, the Chairman suggested that Mr. Ball, Municipal Engineer, Singapore, should be asked to report on the destructor. The Board agreed.

9. Purchase of Gunny Bags: The Board agreed to accept the tender of Ng Bit, Kuala Lumpur, for the purchase of 1,500 empty gunny bags at $12.60 per 100.

10. The Chairman notified that he had, through the Chief Police Officer, received a petition from residents in Cecil Street urging the removal of the halting place for hired motor cars from Cecil Street to Rodger Street. The Chief Police Officer was invited to take the matter in hand, the most suitable place for them to park in the opinion of the Board being in Rodger Street near the Hindu temple.

11. Drainage of Government Quarters and Bungalows: The Board resolved to refer this question to a sub-committee to be appointed from the official members of the Board.

12. System of Assessing Property: The Chairman brought to notice the difficulty sometimes experienced in arriving at a fair valuation for assessment purposes of new buildings which are occupied by the owners. He instanced the Federal Dispensary and Messrs. John Little & Co. He suggested that some sort of principle should be adopted applicable to all such cases. The Board considered that 8 per cent. on capital value assessed as follows would give a just valuation. The capital value in these cases shall consist of the market value varying from time to time of the land on which the building stands plus the cost of the building.

13. Sleeping Benches in Rikisha Depôts: The Chairman stated that he had received application from rikisha owners to be allowed to construct sleeping benches in rikisha depôts. From a hygienic point of view such benches were undesirable as they afforded opportunities for overcrowding. In the past it has been proved that the coolies slept beneath the benches as well as on them, and that it was always difficult to keep such depôts in a sanitary condition. In this the Health Officer concurred. The Board agreed to the policy of not allowing sleeping benches in rikisha depôts.

14. Hydrants near Motor Garages: The Board, in reply to the Resident regarding the above, recommended that no hydrants be installed.

15. The Health Officer's report on the health of Kuala Lumpur town for April, 1914, was submitted.

- (1) The estimated population of the first half-year, 1914, is 57,702. The number of deaths which occurred within Sanitary Board limits was 234, giving a crude death-rate of 48.66 per mille. The number of deaths among the resident population was 134, giving a true death-rate of 27.87 per mille as compared with 31.66 for the corresponding month of 1913.
- (2) There were 38 deaths of infants under the age of one year recorded, thus giving an infantile death-rate of 376.24 per 1,000 births.
- (3) There were 101 births notified, giving an uncorrected birth-rate of 21 per mille.
- (4) There were four deaths of persons unknown.
- (5) The diseases causing the greatest number of deaths were:

Disease.	Resident.	Non-resident.
Malaria	12	15
Dysentery and diarrhoea	18	17
Convulsions	31	—
Beri-beri	7	11

- (6) There were no infectious diseases notified during this month.

- (7) The total rainfall recorded at the General Hospital for the month was 11.30 inches. The greatest fall for the 24 hours ending 6 p.m. was 2.70 inches on the 7th. There was no recorded fall for 10 days.

The mean temperature for the month was—

9 a.m.	81.03	degrees
3 p.m.	80.03	„
9 p.m.	79.26	„

The maximum temperature recorded was 94 degrees on the 12th instant, the minimum temperature was 66 degrees on the 4th and 26th instant.

- (8) Eleven samples of milk were forwarded to the Government Chemist for analysis, and they were all of good quality.

16. Mr. H. P. Clodd asked what had been done regarding the Batu Road Swamp. The Chairman replied that he had consulted Mr. K. T. Parimanam Pillay on the matter, and he in turn had conferred with the owner, his mother. She is not willing to fill up the swamp so as to make it fit for building but wishes to convert it into coconut land. The report of the Health Officer as to the level to which this land must be filled to make it sanitary has not as yet been received.

17. Notices and Prosecutions: Lists of notices and prosecutions were submitted to and approved by the Board.

18. Applications for Water Supplies: Water supplies to the following premises were approved by the Board: No. 33, High Street; 8, Drury Lane; 67, Java Street; 3, Pahang Road; 93, Batu Road; 66A, Petaling Hill; Portion 1,307, Brickfields Road; five houses on lot 14, section 58, near race-course; and No. 5, McArthur Street.

C. F. J. GREEN,
Chairman.
