

2nd Asian Materials Education Symposia

AP Dr. Amalina attended the 2nd Asian Materials Education Symposia at NUS, Singapore, on the 8-9th December 2016. Speakers from the top school of materials engineering (or program such as Berkeley, Cambridge, NUS, MIT, Shanghai Jiaotong, and others) shared their way of delivering the materials education. Some speakers also shared their experience in doing blended learning and students centered learning including during tests. Granta Design also introduced their software for teaching materials education. Details of the symposia can be checked here <https://www.materials-education.com/>.

Community Program

AP Dr. Amalina also organized a community program with primary and secondary school kids during the school break. The kids were exposed to materials engineering and chitosan research by using renewable raw material from fishery waste for water or wastewater treatment.
