RETURN OF RARE BIRDS KILLED, TAKEN OR WOUNDED.

Species of bird.	Sex.	Date.	Place of killing or wounding.

OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill repeals and re-enacts the Wild Animals and Birds Protection Enactment 1921 with such amendments as have since been enacted and with a considerable number of further amendments.

The new matter includes the penalty of imprisonment, other than imprisonment in default of payment of fine, for the more serious offences against the Enactment. A sentence of imprisonment can however only be passed on a second conviction for the same offence. It may be remarked that in several Colonies imprisonment can be awarded for a first offence.

Other new matter is contained in—

Clause 9, which is aimed at the prevention of mining or timber cutting in reserves or sanctuaries;

Clause 19, which provides a new form of licence for deer and game birds at a reduced fee;

Clause 30, which is intended to check the wholesale slaughter of the rhinoceros whose horn is greatly valued as medicine;

Clause 32, which has been re-drafted in order to give greater powers of protecting their holdings to the lawful occupiers of cultivated land;

Clause 35, prohibiting the use of nets or bird-lime, and Clause 46 (iii) authorising the compounding of offences.

"THE POLICE FORCE ENACTMENT, 1923."

RULES UNDER.

No. 6013.—RULES made by the Chief Secretary to Government under section 39 of "The Police Force Enactment, 1923," on the 29th day of January, 1925, under the provisions of "The Police Force Enactment, 1923":

Short title and commencement.

1. (i) These rules may be cited as "The Police Force Pensions Rules, 1923," and shall come into force upon publication in the Gazette.

(ii) The rules made under section 37 (ii) of the Police Force Enactment of 1920, and those published as Notifications No. 3094 in the Gazette of July 1st, 1921, and No. 3234 in the Gazette of June 1st, 1923, are hereby cancelled.

Computation
of pensions, ten years'
service and upwards.

2. (i) Subject to the exceptions and provisions hereinafter contained, a pension may be granted to any subordinate police officer or constable who has served continuously ten years and upwards, and who is certified by a qualified medical officer to be unfit for further service, at the rate of fifteen-sixtieths of the annual pay of his rank, provided that he has held the same rank for three years, but otherwise of the average of the annual salary of the appointments held by him for the three years immediately preceding his retirement, with an additional allowance of one-sixtieth in respect of each additional year of such service, until the completion of a period of thirty-five years, when the annual allowance of forty-sixtieths may be granted, and no addition shall be made in respect of service beyond thirty-five years. Any subordinate police officer or constable shall, however, after fifteen years' service, become eligible for a pension of twenty-sixtieths of his annual pay, without being required to produce a medical certificate of unfitness for service, provided he shall have attained the age of forty-five years.

Periods of absence.

(ii) All absence on leave with half salary will count as half time for pension purposes. No absence without salary will be taken into account as service in computing a pension.

Short service
gratuities.

(iii) Should the term of service be less than ten years, a gratuity may be granted at the rate of half a month's salary for each completed six months of service. A gratuity will be computed on the monthly pay of the officer or constable's rank at the time of retirement if he has held the same rank for three years, but otherwise on the average monthly pay of the appointments held by him for the three years immediately preceding retirement.

Limit of age.

(iv) No subordinate police officer or constable shall be eligible for a pension or gratuity in respect of any service under the age of eighteen years.

2

(v) If a subordinate police officer or constable is removed under the provisions of section 43 before becoming qualified for a pension and the Commissioner thinks that the special circumstances of his case justify the grant to him of a retiring allowance, he may, subject to the approval of the Chief Secretary, be given such retiring allowance as the Commissioner thinks just and proper. Provided that the amount of such allowance shall in no case exceed the amount of the pension for which had he been qualified for a pension at the date of such removal he would have been eligible.

Compulsory retirement.

3. (i) Where a subordinate police officer or constable is permanently injured—

Allowance for injuries received on duty.

- (a) In the actual discharge of his duty, and
- (b) Without his own default, and
- (c) By some injury specially attributable to the nature of his duty, an annual allowance may be granted to him in addition to any pension to which he may be entitled under these rules, such allowance not to exceed the under-mentioned portion of his salary and emoluments at the date of the injury:

When his capacity to contribute to his support is—

Slightly impaired	Five-sixtieths
Impaired	Ten-sixtieths
Materially impaired	Fifteen-sixtieths
Totally destroyed	Twenty-sixtieths

Provided that no such allowance shall, together with the pension, exceed fifty-sixtieths of his salary and emoluments at the date of the injury.

(ii) The allowance shall be reduced by such amount as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Chief Secretary, shall think reasonable in the following cases:

Reduction of allowance.

- (a) Where the injured man has continued to serve for not less than one year after the injury in respect of which he retires;
- (b) Where the injured man is forty years of age or upwards at the date of the injury; or
- (c) Where the injury is not the sole cause of retirement—i.e., the retirement is caused partly by age or infirmity.

(iii) When the subordinate police officer or constable so injured has less than ten years' service and is not eligible for an ordinary pension, he may receive, in lieu of a gratuity, an annual allowance of so many sixtieths as the years he has actually served in addition to the number of sixtieths that may be awarded to him under (i) and (ii).

Annual allowance.

Places and rates of payment.

4. Any pension, gratuity, or other allowance may be paid in the Federated Malay States or in any British possession. Payments made in British India shall be calculated at a rate of exchange to be fixed from time to time by the Chief Secretary; payments made in the United Kingdom or in any British Colony not having a dollar currency shall be calculated at the current bank rate of exchange on the day of payment.

Good conduct essential for full pension.

5. Full pensions or gratuities will be granted only when the candidate's conduct has been uniformly good.

Computation
in event of reduction.

6. When the candidate has been reduced for misconduct and subsequently reinstated, if the reinstatement took place three years before his retirement, his pension will be calculated on his actual salary without deduction; if within three years of the retirement, the pension will be calculated on the average salary for the three years.

Where
candidates are not reinstated.

7. If the candidate has been reduced for misconduct and has not been reinstated, his pension will be calculated on his actual salary at the time of his retirement, even though the reduction was within three years of the retirement; but no further reduction will be made unless in very exceptional circumstances, in which the misconduct has been very serious or the punishment inflicted inadequate.

conduct good.

8. In cases in which the candidate's general conduct has been good, and the reduction may be viewed in the same light as a reprimand would be in other departments of the service, the pension may be computed on the average salary of the last three years, although the reduction may have taken place within that time, and the candidate may not have been reinstated.

No pension in cases of bad conduct.

9. In cases when the candidate's conduct has been decidedly bad, no pension, commuted allowance, or gratuity shall be given.

Commuted allowance in lieu of pension.

10. (i) A commuted allowance or gratuity in lieu of pension, not exceeding five times the amount of the annual pension, may be granted, except in cases of retirement due to ill-health, in cases in which the candidate is a settled resident out of India, the Colony, and British Malaya.

(ii) In calculating the amount of any such commuted allowance or gratuity, there shall be taken into consideration any pension which may have been paid to the candidate prior to the grant of such commuted allowance or gratuity.

Pensions, etc.,
to dependants

11. Each application for a pension, gratuity or allowance on behalf of any dependant of an Asiatic who has been a subordinate police officer or constable will be considered and decided having regard to the special circumstances of the case by the Chief Secretary to Government.

Cases of appointment while receiving pension.

12. If any person to whom a pension has been granted under this Enactment or under any previous Enactment or rules is appointed to fill any office in the service of the Federated Malay States or of any of the said States or of any other Protected Native State or of any British Possession or under the British Government or in any other public service, such pension shall cease to be paid during the period of such employment, if the annual amounts of the emoluments of the office to which he shall be appointed shall be equal to those of the office formerly held by him; and in case they shall not be equal to those of his former office, then no more of such pension shall be paid to him than, together with the salary of his new appointment, shall be equal to the emoluments of his former office.

13. A pension or retiring allowance is granted only upon the condition that it becomes forfeited and may be withdrawn by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Chief Secretary, in any of the following cases:

Forfeiture of pension.

- (a) On the conviction of the grantee, before any Court in the dominions of His Britannic Majesty or in the Federated Malay States, of any offence for which he is sentenced to death, or penal servitude, or rigorous imprisonment for six months or more, unless within six months after such conviction he receives a free pardon;
- (b) On his knowingly associating with thieves or suspected persons;
- (c) On his refusing to give information and assistance to the police, whenever in his power, for the detection and apprehension of criminals, and for the suppression of any disturbance of the public peace;
- (d) If he enter into, or continue to carry on, any business, occupation, or employment which shall be, in the opinion of the Commissioner, disgraceful in itself or injurious to the public, or in which he shall make use of the fact of his former employment in the police in a manner which the Commissioner considers to be discreditable or improper. [G. 566/24.]

No. 6014.—MEMORANDUM ON "POLICE FORCE PENSIONS RULES, 1923."

1. The rules published in the foregoing notification are made by the Chief Secretary to Government under the Police Force Enactment, 1923, and replace the "Police Force (Asiatics) Pensions Rules" made under the Police Force Enactment, 1920, which was repealed by the 1923 Enactment.

2. The title in rule (i) is changed by the omission of the word "Asiatics." The word is dropped because it has become misleading. There are now in the Federated Malay States Police Force a number of Asiatic Officers who are not subject to the provisions of the Police Force Enactment regarding the grant of pensions, but are pensionable under the provisions of the Pensions Enactment.

3. The words "subordinate police officer or constable" are substituted for the words "member of the Police Force of the Federated Malay States" in rule 2 and wherever they occur in the 1920 rules, as being the more accurate term and in conformity with the wording of section 39 of the Police Force Enactment, 1923, under which the rules are framed. Under section 2 of the Enactment the term "member of the Police Force" is defined as including all persons employed for police duties under this Enactment other than extra constables and persons employed for police duties by a Government department as, e.g., railway or marine police. The Police Pension rules however apply only to subordinate police officers and constables of the Federated Malay States Police Force.

4. The words "Provided also that the Chief Secretary may at any time require any member who has attained the age of forty-five years to retire from the Force" at the end of rule 2 (i) are omitted as being no longer necessary. Under section 42 of the 1923 Enactment the Commissioner, with the approval of the Chief Secretary, may require any subordinate police officer or constable to retire after he has attained the age of forty-five years.

5. From rule 2 (ii) the words "or intervals between successive periods of engagement during which half-pay is drawn" are omitted. In practice no such intervals ever occur and the words are unnecessary and without meaning.

6. In rule 2 (iv), the words "eligible for" are substituted for "entitled to". Section 40 of the Enactment expressly states that pensions are not as of right. The phrase "entitled to a pension" is therefore incorrect. A similar alteration is made in rule 3 (iii).

7. In rule 2 (v) the first sentence, "wherever it appears to the Commissioner that any member of the Force is unable efficiently to discharge his duties he may require such member to retire from the force", is deleted as being no longer necessary as the power so to remove a subordinate police officer or constable from the Force is now vested in the Commissioner, subject to the consent of the Chief Secretary, by section 43 of the Enactment.

8. For the reason given in paragraph 5 above rule 2 (v) is also amended by the substitution of the words "before becoming qualified for a pension" for the words "below the age at which he would become entitled under the provisions of rule 2 (i) to retire on a pension". And for the words "but in no case exceeding the amount for which his length of service would qualify him under these rules" is substituted the sentence, "Provided that the amount of such allowance shall in no case exceed the amount of the pension for which had he been qualified for a pension on the date of such removal he would have been eligible."

9. Rule 12 is amended textually to define more comprehensively the nature of further public employment the tenure of which involves the abatement of a pension payable under these rules. [G. 566/24.]

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, S.S., F.M.S.

GOVERNMENT EXPERIMENTAL PLANTATION, SERDANG.

Planters and others interested in agriculture are hereby notified that a large scale experimental plantation exists at Serdang in the State of Selangor, F.M.S.

This plantation is situated about 14 miles by road from Kuala Lumpur and $5\frac{1}{2}$ from Sungei Besi Railway Station. It has been started with the object of carrying out experiments with crops other than rubber and coconuts, and at the present time over 100 different crops are under cultivation on either a large or small scale according to their agricultural importance.

In order that the public may become acquainted with the experimental work which is being carried out on the plantation the third Wednesday in each month has been fixed as a "Visitors' Day" when members of the staff will be detailed to show any persons interested in agricultural matters over the plantation and its extensive nurseries.

In certain cases special visits other than on visitors' day may be arranged on application to the Secretary for Agriculture, S.S. and F.M.S., Kuala Lumpur, or to the Agriculturist, Government Plantations, F.M.S., Kuala Lumpur, but in order not to interfere with the work of the staff such visits will necessarily have to be limited, and the public are requested to make use of the fixed visiting days as far as possible.

A hostel on the plantation provides a limited amount of accommodation and, in special cases, arrangements can be made to accommodate visitors on application to the Assistant Agriculturist, Experimental Plantation, Serdang, Sungei Besi P.O. (Telephone No. 4, Kuala Lumpur Exchange.)

VISITORS' DAY

ON THE

THIRD WEDNESDAY IN EACH MONTH

AT 8.30 A.M.

AT THE EXPERIMENTAL PLANTATION, SERDANG.

Persons travelling by train should alight at Sungei Besi where hire cars and rickshaws are available for transport to the plantation, which is roughly $5\frac{1}{2}$ miles from the railway station.

Unfailing regularity in the spacing and alignment of the writing.

 Visible Writing—of course.
 Two-colour ribbon.
 Stencil cut-out. Back-spacer.
 Tabulator.
 Variable line spacing.
 Light touch.
 High-speed escapement.
 Quiet action. Paper guide.
 Special card feed.
 Interchangeable type and keyboard.

CHEQUE WRITING

Special pin-point type can be supplied for writing cheques and documents. The pin-points prick the ink right through the paper, preventing fraudulent alteration.

The "Imperial" Typewriter is now becoming known as the most up-to-date and convenient machine on the market; the construction of this machine is extremely simple, having fewer parts to get out of order than almost any other. It is very strong and yet not bulky.

These three illustrations show the simple method of removing the Type Units. (Vide Instruction Book.)
